

Scientific evidence overwhelmingly has shown that this new technique will cause unacceptable wide-band interference to the amateur radio spectrum, as well as the rest of the shortwave spectrum. Plenty of other interference-free options such as DSL, cable, satellite, and wireless modem access are available for internet access. Please, do not approve this new technique for use in the USA. It will be the end of reliable radio communications.